TEAMS:

- Each team will consist of 6 male amateur Mass Golf members with an active Handicap Index affiliated with and representing a specific Member Club.

- Players may not arbitrarily split points during a match.
- One member of each foursome is required to use the Golf Genius App to enter hole-by-hole scores for their match.

REGIONS:

- Teams may request to be assigned to a region with other teams (in combination with one, two or three other teams), subject to mutual consent as part of the registration process. Otherwise, teams will be assigned to regions by Mass Golf.
- All teams are encouraged to embrace the spirit of the matches, which is about you and your team competing with teams and friends from other Member Clubs representing the Mass Golf community. Men's Team Match players should expect to compete with players of all different skill levels and from different types of clubs and courses throughout the state.

HANDICAPS:

- Playing Handicap™ determined by Handicap Index from the USGA® GHIN revision as of 1 week before each match (90% allowance).
- Players will be limited to a Playing Handicap of 36.

TEAM ROSTERS & SUBS:

- The players on a team may change from match to match, as long as each player maintains an active Mass Golf membership with the Member Club they are representing.

PACE OF PLAY:

- To keep up pace of play, in any match where both sides have met or exceeded net double bogey for a hole – the hole is tied, and both sides proceed to next hole. See reference to Rule 21.2 under Format.
- It is expected that the pace of play requirements of the host club will be enforced by the captain of each team.

GOLF GENIUS:

- The Golf Genius App will be used for official scoring of all matches. No paper materials will be printed in Golf Genius for Team Matches.
- Captains must use Golf Genius to manage each match day and enter results.
- In the event of a substitution less than 1 week prior to a match, Captains are responsible for updating the new player's Handicap Index to the correct revision date in Golf Genius.
- Men's Team Matches must be accessed via a dedicated link to Golf Genius provided by Mass Golf and cannot be accessed through a Club's Golf Genius account.

TEE GUIDELINES:

- Tee guidelines will be communicated by Mass Golf directly to each individual region after regions are assigned. Each course will be provided with a recommended list of Mass Golf-rated tee sets that can be used for Men's Team Matches.
- Captains should discuss the various tee options at their course with the other captains in their region to mutually agree upon tee set(s) they feel will best suit their players.
- Each foursome must play from the same set of tees. An individual player or side cannot play from a different tee set than the rest of their foursome.
- Captains can mutually agree to have each foursome play from a different set of tees than other foursomes. The host club captain will set the course and tee that each foursome will play from in Golf Genius accordingly. Tee sets will impact the Playing Handicaps of each foursome and should be reviewed carefully by the host club captain prior to the start of their host matches.

FIELDING LESS THAN SIX PLAYERS:

A club is expected to field a full team of six players playing in three sides of two. Below are the procedures to follow if a club cannot field a full team:

- If one player from a side is absent, then their designated partner will play alone as a side against their original opposing side.
- If both players from a single side are absent, the two lowest handicap players remaining will each play individually as two separate sides against their opponent's sides of two, and the third match will be played as a side of two.
- If both players from multiple sides are absent, each remaining player will play individually as separate side(s) against their opponent's lowest-handicap side(s) of two, and any remaining matches will be defaulted, with 10 points being awarded to the other team for each defaulted match.

If you know in advance that your team will be fielding fewer than 6 players, we encourage you to notify the opposing team and host captain as soon as possible, both in the spirit of the competition and to ensure any necessary updates are made correctly in Golf Genius.

POSITIONING OF PLAYERS:

- Captains are responsible for making sure all players on their team are in correct low-to-high Handicap Index order in the pairings. For any matches where players are in an incorrect order, those matches will be defaulted, and 10 points will be awarded to the opposing team per each defaulted match.

MATCH CANCELLATIONS:

- In the event a team is unable to host a match at their home course as specified by the match rotation schedule, the captain of that team may choose to secure an alternate site to host.
- Matches may be cancelled only by the host Club staff due to adverse weather conditions. The host captain is responsible for rescheduling any cancelled matches within the time frame assigned to that match (before the end of the designated month).
- A host team that is unable to conduct its host match for non-weather related reasons within the assigned time frame will default the match, with 30 points awarded to the other three teams in the region.
